WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—President Harding has definitely appointed Dr. C. E. Sawyer, of Marion, his personal physician and expects to nominate him in the near future for the rank of Brigadier General in the army medical corps. Dr. Sawyer's commission would follow a custom of years under which the president's physicians have been an officer in the army or navy medical service. The doctor has been the Harding family physician for a number of years and accompanied Mr. Harding on his trips away from Marion after he was nominated for the presidency. Dr. Sawyer has specialized in nervous diseases and is the proprietor of a sanitarium in Marion.

The railroad proposed cuts ranging from 13 to 20 cents an hour, effective April 1. Declining to accept them the labor representatives said they would discuss the matter with the men. Another conference on the subject was set for March 22.

Huge Audiences Hear Billy Sunday Flay The Devil In Cincy

CINCINNATI, O., March 8.—Whirling on his toes to fight the devil in back of him as well as in front, dashing up and down his platform in pursuit of the Evil One, raising a chair overhead to smash his Satanic Majesty, dashing off the stage on top of the reporters' tables to defy sin with his clenched fists, and in a final leap hurling to the very top of the pulpit, Billy Sunday has scaled the ramparts of the ether regions at his services in the tabernacle in Cincinnati, and with thousands of singing, shouting, cheering followers, waving hats and handkerchiefs he is leading a great charge in Cincinnati, as God's Grenadier. "Come on!" fairly yelled Sunday as he stood with one foot on his chair, the other on top of his pulpit. "Come on! you Christians. Like Napoleon's drummer boy who never sounded the call of retreat, so we, God's Grenadiers, will never "back up before the devil." It is estimated that a total of 23,000 people heard Billy Sunday at the three services Sunday. "The people are wonderfully responsive to my preaching," said Sunday. "They are great audiences, and I never saw crowds show more interest and enthusiasm on the opening day than did those of Cincinnati. They were as far advanced in the warmth of their spirit as crowds usually are after ten days of preaching."

Cooper Slated For Interstate Commerce Board

CLEVELAND, O., March 8.—A Washington dispatch to the Cleveland News says the appointment of Congressman John G. Cooper, of Youngstown, to be a member of the Interstate commerce commission is expected to be announced from the White House this week. President Harding is understood to have definitely decided to name Cooper for one of the existing commission vacancies. Cooper worked as a locomotive fireman and engineer for 17 years and President Harding is said to be impressed with the desirability of appointing a practical railroad man to the commission. The salary is $12,000 a year. Senator Willis today sent to Postmaster General Hays his indorsement of W. B. Robinson, assistant postmaster at Columbus, to be chief post office inspector. Lon Owens, of Canton, is also said to be a candidate for this $5,000 job. Senator Willis has declared his neutrality in the contest between P. A. Kershaw, of Lima, and A. L. Holmyer, of Cincinnati, for his indorsement for second assistant postmaster general and has recommended both to Postmaster General Hays.

Ebert Says Germany Will Not Oppose Allied Advance

BERLIN, March 8.—Friedrich Ebert, the German imperial president, declared in a proclamation issued today, that Germany was not in a position to use force to oppose the forcible methods of the allies in occupying additional German territory, but that she nevertheless protested vigorously against what the president declared was an open violation of the treaty of peace. The president's proclamation was as follows: "Fellow Citizens:—Our opponents in the world war imposed upon us unheard of demands, both in money and kind, impossible of fulfillment. Not only ourselves, but our children and grandchildren, would have become the work slaves of our adversaries by our signature. We were called upon to seal a contract which even the work of a generation would not have sufficed to carry out. "We must not and we can not comply with it. Our honor and self respect forbid it. "With an open breach of the peace treaty of Versailles, our opponents are advancing to the occupation of more German territory. "We, however, are not in a position to oppose force with force. We are defenseless. "Nevertheless, we can cry out, so all who still recognize the voice of righteousness may hear. "Right is being drowned in might. "The whole German people is suffering with those of our citizens who are forced to suffer foreign domination. With firm bonds must this sorrow unite us in one sentiment, one will. "Fellow citizens, meet this foreign domination with grave dignity. Maintain an upright demeanor. Do not allow yourselves to be driven into committing ill considered acts. Be patient and have faith. "The imperial government will not rest until the foreign power yields before our right."

Latchstring Out At White House For Congressmen; Both Parties Intimate With Harding

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.) WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—The era of good feeling, proclaimed so hopefully by President Harding in his inaugural address, has in a measure been begun. The smiling countenances of Democratic as well as Republican Senators emerging from the President's office bore testimony today to the fact that for the first time in eight years Congress and the chief executive are on intimate terms with one another. This means no reflection on Mr. Wilson, who came to Washington without knowing much about the personal equation of Congress and who never cultivated the legislative membership but it does mean that Warren Harding's six years in the United States Senate will probably prove a great advantage instead of a handicap to him. Democrats Are Welcome There are almost as many Democrats as Republicans calling on Mr. Harding. (Continued on Page Eight)

PACKERS CUT WAGES OF 100,000 EMPLOYEES

CHICAGO, March 8.—Wage decreases of approximately 12 1/2 percent, affecting more than 100,000 employees of the packing industry in all parts of the country, were officially announced today. The reductions are effective on March 14. At the same time, there will be a revision of working hours, and one-half for over time being paid only after ten hours labor in any one day or after 54 hours in any one week. Double time will be paid for Sundays and holidays. The new wage scale reduces the wage rate of all hourly paid employees eight cents per hour. The piece work rates are reduced 12 1/2 percent. At present the lowest rate paid labor is 53 cents an hour. Under the new scale, this will be cut to 45 cents. The higher paid employees will be reduced proportionately. The minimum wage guarantee for 40 hours pay per week will be continued. It was also announced that the packers are now working out plans to establish closer relations between the workers and the management of the various plants with a view to giving the employees a voice in all matters of mutual interest. Declaring that the industry has grave problems to face in the months and years ahead, the packers expressed the belief that the time has come when employees and employers should join in discussing and deciding the conduct of the business, and said that an announcement of the details of the plan would be made in the near future. "The reduction of 12 1/2 percent in wages is very small in view of the fact that packing house wages average three times as much today as they did before the war," said J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Company, in discussing the decreases. "Despite the lower rate, employees

No Resistance Offered By The Germans

FRENCH MILITARY HEADQUARTERS, MAYENCE, GERMANY, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Occupation of the additional German territory which the allies had announced they would take possession of as one of the penalties for Germany's failure to meet the allied reparations demands, was carried out today. No untoward incident marked the eastward move of the allied troops, so far as reports up to a late hour showed. The occupation of the city of Dusseldorf, the largest of the cities taken over by the allies, was completed this morning and that of Duisburg and Ruhrort, comprising together the chief port of the Ruhr coal and industrial region, this afternoon. The entire movement was effected in a way to obviate, so far as possible, a show of force, but the French and the British Rhine flotillas were prepared for eventualities. The troops moved forward afoot and in camions and on board French and British river craft. The Belgian troops entered Dusseldorf by the way of the bridge over the Rhine. The French and British proceeded by way of the Cologne bridgehead, marching along the east bank of the Rhine and entering Dusseldorf from the south and east. Duisburg was occupied by French and Belgian troops, while possession of Ruhrort was taken by the allied Rhine flotilla. The headquarters of General DeGoutte, who, as commander in chief of the French forces along the Rhine, carried out the orders from Marshal Foch for the advance, are situated at Neuss, on the west bank of the Rhine, opposite Dusseldorf. At Dusseldorf, the inhabitants were warned in a proclamation by the mayor against taking a provocative attitude toward the allied forces. After the occupation of Dusseldorf, General DeGoutte issued a proclamation to its people in which he declared the occupation was not a measure of hostility against the population, but one intended to compel the government of Germany to carry out its obligations. No obstacle would be raised against the carrying on of the economic life of the region, he declared, and the allied authorities were ready to aid the workers in improving their condition, especially as regarded provisioning.

DUESSELDORF, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—The American troops in the Coblenz area are remaining at their old positions, on orders from Washington.

12,000 British Troops In Germany LONDON, March 8.—Orders for the advance of the British troops upon Dusseldorf were issued at the British war office last night. It was reported here today. There are at present 12,000 British soldiers in Germany, of whom 4,000 are on temporary duty in upper Silesia. It is believed the forces along the Rhine will be reinforced so that they will number 12,000 four battalions being ready to go to the British section of the German occupied territory. Any attempt on the part of the Germans to evade the new customs zone along the Rhine by diverting trade through Rotterdam or other parts on the North Sea will be promptly countered by an allied blockade, it is declared by the Daily Mail. This morning's newspapers, with one exception, approved of the allied decision to penalize Germany for refusing to accede to the allied plan for reparations. This exception was the Daily News, which complained Premier Lloyd George had "brushed aside so-called German offers making for a peaceful solution of the situation."

Triumph For French Policy "Mr. Lloyd George," the newspaper continued, "completely capitulated to France. The allied decision was a triumph for the French policy of revenge and all the sinister implications it contains." The newspaper argued there was no legal and scant moral justification for the steps projected by the entente, and asked why the allies could not have waited a fortnight longer for the result of the upper Silesian plebiscite. It says three sequels are almost inevitable—Germany will lose the plebiscite, which will still further reduce her paying capacity; the indemnity will become worthless as an economic reality and Marshal Foch's army will find a "convenient occasion to take over a vast industrial region which France has long coveted." "The ultimate consequences of this reckless adventure," the newspaper went on, "may be only guessed, but Marshal Foch's advance may soon prove a march to perdition."

Some misgivings were expressed by the Daily Express, which urged that Great Britain limit its participation in military activities to the minimum. "If this is a beginning of a lengthy campaign requiring widespread preparations and the creation of a great general staff," the newspaper declared, "it will be opposed. British tax payers can not support another expensive venture."

The London Times and the Morning Post rejoiced because the conference had produced a "welding of the entente." The Times said the German counter proposals had been rejected because they were not honest, and that the allies by occupying German towns "would have their hands on the tape through which a large amount of German wealth passes, and they will

THE GERMAN AMBASSADOR TO LEAVE LONDON LONDON, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. St. Hauner, the German ambassador to Great Britain, will leave London for Berlin tonight, it was announced this afternoon. When asked whether he would return, the German envoy shrugged his shoulders and said he did not know. The embassy here is remaining open, with the counsellor in charge.

DANVILLE, ILL., March 8.—Because they were married on the wrong side of a street, Mr. and Mrs. Alton J. Leneve, of Danville, wedded since 1903, went through a second ceremony at Urbana, to make the wedding legal in Illinois. After obtaining a license in Danville in 1903, to marry Louise Johnson, Leneve decided that the ceremony should be performed in the new home he had fitted up for his bride in the town of State Line, on the Illinois-Indiana border. The house was just over the line in Indiana but the question of legality of the license did not occur to the Leneves until recently at the marriage of their daughter. Attorneys were consulted, and as a result, the second wedding was arranged.

Springfield Rejects Daylight Saving Plan

SPRINGFIELD, March 8.—Through the action of the city commission last night, Springfield will not adopt the proposed daylight saving plan, but will observe the present time schedule through the summer.

A canvass of the city was made by the chamber of commerce and while the majority was in favor of the more daylight plan, the commission felt that it was not sufficient to justify making the change.

BANDITS SHOOT GARRISON STOREKEEPER, WOUND NOT SERIOUS; ROBBERS GET AWAY

Garrison, Ky., above Yanceburg, visited by a serious fire last week was again thrown into excitement Monday when W. E. Christ, storekeeper was shot and wounded by two young men who had robbed as their motive. The aim of the man with the gun was high and Mr. Christ escaped with a flesh wound on top of the head and the two robbers got only a few cents out of the pockets of their victim for their trouble. The holdup and shooting took place about 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening only ten minutes after Mr. Christ had closed the store for the day. He had just been in his home less than 100 yards from the store when one of the men called and asked him to come to the store as they wanted to make a purchase. Mr. Christ lost no time in getting to his place of business and he was just ready to unlock the front door when one of the young men pulled a gun and fired at him. The shot just grazed the top of Mr. Christ's head. It stunned him and he fell to the ground. When neighbors and Mrs. Christ reached the man's side they found the pockets of his clothes turned inside out. Mr. Christ did not have any large sum of money on him. He had very little in his clothes and the robbers took it as a reward for their efforts.

Mr. Christ could not tell much about the bandits as he did not pay particular attention to them when they said they wanted to make purchases. One was about 25 years of age and the other about 20.

According to several residents of Garrison two suspicious men were seen hiding behind a lumber pile near the store Monday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff H. M. Skidmore and several residents started a search for the bandits and after walking east on the C. and O. track about three miles they learned from a farmer that two young men had passed there a short time before. The officer and his men gave up the chase and notified the local police to keep a lookout for the bandits. Other towns along the C. and O. were notified.

The bandits "med their holup a little late, no doubt, expecting to catch Mr. Christ alone when he closed up his store and had the day's receipts with him. They selected the right hour for the streets of the village were deserted, everyone being at their evening meal when they were startled by the one shot.

It is thought that one of the men and maybe both of them are the ones who visited the Christ, store about two months ago and made away with about $400 worth of merchandise.

Mr. Christ who is 35 years of age was much better Tuesday but could not give a detailed description of the two men.

Says Packers Looking For Strike

CHICAGO, Mar. 8.—A declaration that "the packers are looking for a strike and there is no doubt that they will get one if they insist on their proposal to return to the old ten hour day," was made today by Dennis Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers Union, when informed of wage reductions and longer working hours announced by the packers for their 100,000 employees.

Mr. Lane said that if it really was necessary for the packers to reduce wages in order to do business the employes would be "willing to come half way in any proposition that was made in a fair and just way."

"I am convinced, however," he continued, "that the workers will never consent to a return to the antediluvian ten hour day."

Mr. Lane said that he believed that the packers would "believe a strike."

"We have found that they have stored vast quantities of their products and that they could shut down for some time without any real loss," he said.

Calling of the docket followed the convening of court and these cases were submitted during the day:

The John H. McGowan Company against The City of Portsmouth. This suit grew out of a claim for damages and for extras by plaintiff company in connection with its contract for building the city water works in 1914 and 1915, and on the trial of the case on June 24, 1920, a jury in common pleas court returned a verdict in favor of the company in the sum of $29,233.63 with interest. The city prosecuted error to the higher court seeking a reversal.

Attorneys Carl Phares, Cincinnati, and C. M. Seel of this city, appeared for the plaintiff and Attorneys Will J. Meyer, Columbus; E. G. Miller and Schaefer S. A. Skelton for the city.

Orilla Nutter against R. S. Prichard, was submitted by Attorney A. C. Woodrow for plaintiff and Attorneys Blair and Blair for defendant.

Grover Barr against Independent Taxi Company, Attorney B. F. Kimble for plaintiff, and Attorney W. R. Sprague for defendant.

Holts Brown against State of Ohio. Error. Attorney J. T. Mickelthwait for Brown, and Prosecutor Sheppard for the state.

Mrs. Bell Awarded Decree. Emma Bell, New Boston, was granted a divorce from Frank Bell by Judge Thomas Tuesday on the ground of cruelty and the plaintiff was awarded the custody of their two minor children.

The case was heard several days ago and then continued for further investigation. They were married September 28, 1914.

Mrs. Wallace Charges Cruelty. Esther Wallace, 1509 High street, charges cruelty in her suit for a divorce and alimony with custody of their two minor children, instituted in Common Pleas court Tuesday, against Otis Wallace, molder, employed by The Ohio Store company.

In her bill of complaint filed through Attorneys Blair and Blair, the plaintiff alleges Wallace has assaulted and abused her and she secured a temporary injunction, tying up his wages until the case can be heard on its merits.

Wife Seeks Divorce. Evelyn Hinebaugh, 917 Waller street, charges neglect, cruelty and habitual drunkenness in her suit for a divorce and custody of their two children in a suit filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday against Allen Hinebaugh, 1804 Jackson street.

She says they were married Jan. 1, 1908, and through Attorneys Blair and Blair complains that Hinebaugh has failed and refused to support her and claims that by reason of his delinquency in this respect she has been compelled to leave their two children with her parents at Pensacola, Fla.

The plaintiff further declares that Hinebaugh has beat and abused her and asserts that by reason of his ill treatment that she has for sometime past been unable to live with him.

Given Divorce and Former Name. An approved entry carrying with it a decree for divorce to the plaintiff in the case of Rachel Herrick, New Boston, against Carl Herrick, formerly of this city, now a member of the U. S. navy, was filed in the office of the clerk of courts Tuesday.

The case was heard by Judge Thomas a few days ago and the decree was granted on the ground of infidelity and the plaintiff was restored to her former name of Wilcox. They were married March 8, 1919. Attorney W. H. Sprague for the wife.

Mayne Cole Applies For Divorce. On the grounds of cruelty and infidelity, Mayne Cole, 2342 Gallia street, seeks a divorce and alimony, with custody of their only child, in an action filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday against Ernest Cole, railroad brakeman, whom she married April 2, 1914.

REVIVALS IN THE CITY

At Trinity Church

"Everybody ought to love Jesus."
The happy voices of the older ones could not drown the joyous tones of the children as they vied with one another in singing that glorious chorus that the Trinity attendants are beginning to love.Monday with its routine of arduous duties seemed to have but little effect on the attendance, and one could not help but feel a thrill of surprise at thenumbers assembled, and the many happy faces lifted toward the speaker as he arose to speak in his characteristic manner of "The Winding Church," taking for his text Acts 2:42, 47. "And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. Praising God, and having favor with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved."There are three things characteristic of the early Christian church. They were steadfast in fellowship, and there were daily new members added to the church. "Notice the word steadfast, for unless the people are steadfast the Lord cannot use them very much. Being steadfast to the Lord is an entirely different thing from being stuck fast in the devil. Unless the people in the church are steadfast, God cannot use them with good results. They were steadfast in doctrine and on the day of pentecost 3,000 souls were added to the church in one day.Unless the church is steadfast in doctrine it cannot be used for large ends. The trouble today is that we believe everything in general but do not hold strictly to anything definite.
There never was a day when there were many isms across the world as this day. What we need is to comeback to be steadfast to the apostles' doctrine. We must have the love of God in our own hearts, we must know Him ourselves, if we are to make HimRED PIMPLES over my face which caused disfigurement. The pimples were large, red, and hard, and were scattered all over were terrible and I scratched and irri-

"The trouble lasted two weeks before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I found relief and in five weeks I was healed, when I had used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two known to others.

The early church was also steadfast in fellowship. Every Christian was a church member and every church member was a Christian. It was only a small church of 120 members that got the Holy Spirit on the day of pentecost, but what wonders are performed! There are enough church letters in this town hidden away in old trunks and drawers to start a good sized church. But what kind of a church would it be? Some people are giving the preacher a mighty poor chance to grow eloquent at their funeral. He will have to look far and wide to find anything good to say about them. If the world is ever going to be saved it will be saved by the Christian church, the institution that has been organized for that great purpose. Some folks sing "Like a mighty army moves the church of God," but it more like a hospital corps. There are so many sore heads in the church.
Some liken the church to a tree.
Only God can grow a tree and it takes a long time, but when it is grown it throws its branches out and shades the beast, it makes the lumber for the home and for the ship that plows the sea.The greatest prayer is a social prayer, where we will stay on our knees until a soul is brought to God.
John Knox cried "Give me Scotland or I die" and God gave him Scotland and threw in England to boot. If we only stay on our knees until the victory is ours, the revival will come. We have the familiar picture in the Book of Genesis of Joshua leading out the hosts of Israel in battle, against the mighty. Defeat was almost certain.
Moses and Aaron and He were on the mountain top, and as long as Moses arms were held up Israel was victorious, but when they dropped, defeat ensued. So it is, prevailing prayer on the mountain top brings victory in the valley.Very helpful prayer meetings are being held at 2 o'clock each afternoon at the church, and all are invited.
Special music at each service to be held at 7:30. Last night the appreciative audience listened to a selected male quartet. Tonight Miss Beatrice Sewant will sing a solo, as will also Mr. Vaughn Finner. The large chorus choir, led by Mr. Charles Bennett, is a feature of the meeting, and to hear them sing is certainly inspiring. Dr.
Dutler will speak tonight on "Three Mistakes in Our Modern Thinking."

Great Sermon On Conversion

Pine Monday failed to put in an appearance in the union evangelistic meetings at the First Presbyterian church last evening. Quite to the contrary, a splendid crowd was in attendance to hear Mrs. Victoria Booth-Clibborn Demarest deliver another of her great sermons.Tonight she will give one of her most interesting addresses, "The Devil's Seal," and a most cordial invitation is extended to those who have not heard her to take the opportunity tonight. The song service begins at seven-fifteen o'clock.Mrs. Demarest's subject last night was "Right About Face," her text being Matthew 18:1, the puzzling question of the disciples: "Who then is greatest in the kingdom of heaven?"
It was this query that Jesus answered by putting down a little child in their midst.The speaker said, in part: "Jesus imparted in a most natural way the things He felt people ought to know.
Yet it was not so much what He said, as what He was, that counted. Every word of His was backed by a supremely wonderful life. His words were life—because He lived what He said. Jesus loved little children because they are so real, always natural, no posing, no sham, no hypocrisy.
If they are good, they are good; if they are bad they are bad; but they never pretend. He liked children because life was like them, Himself."The disciples wanted to be great, extraordinary. He brought them right back to the beginning of things, right down to realities when He said: "Become like little children." If we believe right the rest will take care of itself; lay a sure foundation and the building is sure to be right. The Bible is the greatest Book because it begins right; hear it: "In the beginning—God."What is the use of trying to cultivate the Christian life when you have no Christian life to cultivate? Before you can cultivate, the Christian life you must have the Christ.So Jesus was right in calling the disciples back from their day dreams to beginning of things—back to the spirit of childhood, the highest ideal

FAMINE CONDITIONS IN CHINA BROUGHT HOME TO PORTSMOUTH BY PEKING LETTER

The terrible suffering that the poor people in certain parts of China are undergoing, due to the failure of the crops last year, is brought home to Portsmouth people in a letter from Mrs. Irma Rardin Davis, who resides in Peking. Her husband, the Rev. George Davis, is one of the leading Methodist missionaries to China. Recently the Sunday-school class in Bigelow church taught by Mrs. J. J. Rardin, mother of Mrs. Davis, took up a collection, and sent it to Mrs. Davis to be used in famine relief. The letter in reply to the gift says:

Peking, China, January 20, 1921.

To Mother's Class in Bigelow:

Dear Girls—Mr. Davis is away on famine business and in his absence I will write to acknowledge your check for $15.00 forwarded through Mrs. Rardin and mother for famine relief purposes and to assure you it will doubtless relieve more misery per dollar than any contribution you ever made—also to thank you warmly on behalf of famine victims.

We have been in North China eighteen years and during that time have seen one catastrophe after another befall old Cathay, but never anything comparable to this and we know that conditions will grow worse as time goes on until May, when things appear above ground that are edible. Smallpox and typhus are rampant in the refugee camps—that wretched little emmiser of death and suffering—"Herr Louise"—is the only one "living high" in the vast famine zone. Local medical organizations are making large and thorough preparations for delousing purposes. I am glad "delousing" is a perfectly good English word. I see the latest English dictionary declares "lousing" to be the more correct verb, "litt" it seems to me the "die" negatives it and it is surely the negative louse we want.

But meantime, the pen is so futile and our eyes have witnessed and ears have heard so much of misery that I am sure the memory of this winter in Peking will never be effaced. One of the most tragic elements of the whole tragic affair is the non-resisting apathy on the part of the victims. They know they must die and they wait. There is nothing else to do. Thousands—tens of thousands—of them have emigrated from the effected

Submits County Health Report

No business of importance came up for consideration at the regular monthly meeting of the County Health Board held Monday at the Court House. The session was brief as a consequence, the board quickly disposing of the usual routine and adjourning. The report of Dr. R. W. DeCraw, health commissioner, for February was as follows:

1. Notifiable diseases reported during the month:
Chicken-pox 15, measles 17, pneumonia 10, syphilis 1, tuberculosis 5, scarlet fever 7, smallpox 1, whooping cough 5.

2. During February there were carried on the following health measures: Families quarantined 22, quarantines released 10, visits made 25, office calls 6, nuisances 6, schools visited 4, water supplies investigated 2, cultures taken 3, telephone calls 26.

4. The funds set aside for our use for the year 1920 was the same levy as in years past with the additional aid from the state amounting last year to $1,701.58. Our operations last year, which were more extensive and more active, ended in a saving to the county of over $2,000 over the old plan and this amount does not include the money received from the state.

The saving of life, alone, in diptheria, shows the benefits to be derived from modern health methods as the following records show:

The diptheria death rate for the first nine months of 1920 was 13.8 per 100,000 persons, or 7.4 per cent higher than during the same period of 1913. In 1920 county death rate was zero and with the free distribution of antitoxin to all. This item alone should make the people realize the advantages to be gained from our present health laws, but we need the full co-operation of the people to gain these ends.

HAD TERRIBLE COUGH IN BED 3 YEARS

In 3 weeks she was out on the streets again, feeling fine.

"In 1918, I had a gripe, followed by pneumonia which left me with a severe cough. I coughed constantly from morning till night and then would wake up in the night and cough and choke. I lost flesh and my appetite was very poor. I doctored with a specialist for over a year, and had several other doctors, but got worse instead of better. Last winter I was bed-ridden, had chills and fever and got so weak I could not sit up in bed 5 minutes without fainting."

"In February, 1919, I started on Milk's Emulsion. I was then in bed, but in 3 weeks, I was able to be up and on the streets. Just think of it! For 3 years I have been a physical wreck, in bed most of the time, and Milk's Emulsion has brought me out in wonderful shape. My friends all tell me how well I'm looking, for they didn't expect me to be living today."

Miss M. Housell, 1008 Opelousas St., Algiers, La.

In thousands of just such cases, Milk's Emulsion has brought the same wonderful relief and improvement. It costs nothing to try.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build up flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are especially relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Edison Issues "Bits of Broadway"

Up to the Minute Dances and Songs Now Ready on Phonograph Re-Creations

Seven fox trots, a waltz, and two songs comprise the latest contribution of the Edison Company to the phonograph world. They are hot off the giddle so to speak, from Broadway to the smallest town of the country. Some of them are the best dance numbers produced in months.

Foremost among the fox trots, perhaps, are "Humming," played by Orlando's Orchestra, and "Tulestena," given by the Green Bros. Novelty Band. Keeping pace with these are "Bright Eyes," also performed by Orlando's organization, and "Broadway Rose," rendered by Harry Raderman's Jazz Orchestra. Raderman presents "Home Again Blues," too, and the Green Bros. show their genius for dance music in "Sleepy Hollow," a waltz of the dreamy sort.

The many fans for Max Fells' Delta Robbia Orchestra will be glad to know that it has Re-Created "Rosie," a fox trot which withstands repetition. "Carresses," another fox trot, is linked with "Rosie" on the same Re-Creation, and is performed by Leuzberg's Riverside Orchestra.

"Blues" songs are multiplied over night, it would seem, but "I've Got the Blues For My Kentucky Home," as sung by the Premier Quartet, is the kind that only comes once in a "blue moon." Rounding out these "Bits of Broadway" is a song sung by the entertaining Al Bernard, entitled "Tim-buctoo," and it is funny enough to make a stone image crack a smile.

ARE ENJOYING LIFE IN SUNNY FLORIDA

G. Wash. Williams of Rosemont Road and Pete Lust of Twelfth street near Chillicothe are enjoying themselves in sunny Florida according to letters received by friends. The local men are located in a little vine covered cottage on the Little Manatee river 25 miles south of Tampa near Tampa Bay. It is ten miles across the bay to St. Petersburg, Fla. Mr. Williams writes as follows: "The sweet songs of the mocking birds and red birds bring you out of sleep land to fragrant odors of orange and lemon blossoms, the bright sunshine and the call of the red and line. We gather oysters and catch crabs and fish most every day. My last day's catch was four catfish, one 5 pound trout and two three pound red fish. Hunting is just as good. This place is noted for its beauty, fish, game, moonshine, and moonshine." Mr. Williams says that one will have to see the place to appreciate its beauty.

RECORD DAY AT WHEELERSBURG M. E. CHURCH

Sunday was the biggest day in the history of the Wheelersburg M. E. church, the day being the close of the three weeks' revival held by Rev. H. A. Kirk, pastor of the church, who delivered gospel messages that packed the church with crowds each night eager to hear his sermons.

The three week's campaign resulted in 124 conversions, 83 joining the Wheelersburg M. E. church Sunday. More records were broken Sunday in Sabbath School when the attendance was 352. Last Sunday the total was 315 and it was a record breaker.

The 60 and 9 Men's class had 102 present Feb. 27, and thought that would be the high water mark but they came back yesterday with 107 which is a new record for men's classes in this section to shoot at, this mark being very good considering the size of the school and church.

So successful was the revival that members are already laying plans for a new church home. A campaign for a new church building may be started very soon.

Auto Turns Turtle; Driver Pinned Under Car

PIKETON, March 8.—A Ford touring car, bearing a Kentucky license, and driven by a man who failed to give his name, went over an embankment and turned turtle near the Little Beaver bridge, three miles south of Piketon on the Scioto Trail, about nine o'clock last night. The driver was pinned beneath the machine, where he was obliged to stay until a passerby came to his rescue, and helped him to get from under the machine. The driver was badly bruised and the top of the machine was completely torn off, and the windshield broken. He was taken to Chillicothe by Frank W. Stanley, a friend, who happened to pass the scene of the accident. The wrecked machine was sent to Raymond Dawson, a resident of the Van Meter farm.

OH MAN—BY BRIGGS

Latchstring

Senator Oscar Underwood, Alabama, leader of the minority, spent a long time with the President. When he came out of the White House, Mr. Underwood admitted that he had asked Mr. Harding to give the boys in Congress a chance to go home between now and the extra session of Congress, arguing, indeed, that Congress would probably be here all summer and that the interval was needed by every member of Congress irrespective of party.

But that wasn't all Mr. Underwood and Mr. Harding talked about. "The President and I are old friends," said Mr. Underwood, with a laugh, "and we had a good deal to talk about that couldn't be made public."

Another Democrat, Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, had an audience with President Harding, who, it will be recalled expressed personal regret at the defeat suffered by Mr. Chamberlain in the last election.

"What chance had I," said Mr. Chamberlain, jokingly, "when the outgoing President didn't want to see me re-elected and the incoming President telegraphed out that he wanted a Republican elected?"

There is good reason to believe that President Harding will take care of Mr. Chamberlain by appointing him to the Shipping Board as a Democratic member.

But the striking event with which Warren Harding begins his first week as chief executive is unquestionably the dinner given at the White House to twelve members of the House and nine members of the Senate, all of them Republican leaders. Mr. Wilson didn't believe in talking business at meal times. Rarely did he invite anybody to lunch or dinner who might talk shop. The occasions at which Senators and Representatives were especially invited to dine at the White House in the last eight years can be numbered on the fingers of two hands. Both Presidents Taft and Roosevelt seldom missed a week without having members to lunch or to dinner or even breakfast. Mr. Wilson preferred to work hard between meal hours and meal times in the forenoon or afternoon or even after dinner at night, reserving meal hours for his family. President Harding, however, shares the European idea that much more can be accomplished in Government over a cup of coffee than by stiff and formal conferences under the stress and strain of a crowded engagement list.

Harding knows Congress and is aware that the success of his Administration depends upon the kind of cooperation he gets not merely from the members of his own party but the minority as well. The President is an earnest individual who has set out to get the maximum amount of help out of Congress. He believes, moreover, in party organization and will follow rather rigidly the recommendations of the local party chieftains on appointments. His knowledge of how to handle politicians is his greatest asset for while the political folks do not as a rule contribute constructive ideas, they can do a great deal to undermine and destroy public confidence in a chief executive. Mr. Harding has started out with his invitation to members of Congress to sit down with him at dinner and plan the work of the extra session. Mr. Harding, moreover, has given his Cabinet to understand that he hopes they will handle as much business as possible without referring matters to him. He wants the heads of the departments to manage those departments and to consult him only on questions of broad policy. Mr. Harding means to make his Cabinet officers do the work and take the responsibility too. That alone has inspired confidence already, and so far as the national capital is concerned, it has revived thoughts of another era of good feeling in American history.

can probably earn as much or more than under existing conditions. The forty-hour minimum wage with its basic eight-hour day, has demonstrated positively during the two years that it has been in effect that it results in decreased weekly wage earnings for the employees.

"The re-adjustment should enable all plant employees to average 48 hours wages per week and their earnings will compare favorably with the earnings of similar workmen in other industries."

The orders for the reduction in wages follows the cancellation by the packers on February 26 of the wartime arbitration agreements for the settlement of all disputes with their employees.

know how to regulate the flow."

Germany's appeal to the League of Nations was characterized by the Telegraph as "a final touch of feeble insincerity, as German wire pullers take the League about as seriously as they did Belgium's guaranteed neutrality in 1914."

The Daily Mail asserted the final speech by Dr. Walter Simons, head of the German delegation, was "impudent and cynical" and that every sentence was an "affront." Even the Laborite Herald, while it called the penalties "a sheer colossal folly," said Dr. Simons' speech was "a model of tactlessness and inaptitude."

The paper conceded itself, however, by asserting:

"From a revolution viewpoint, the penalties will be all for good, as the end must be a crash from which revolution will arise."

DEGOUTTE ORDERED TO ADVANCE
PARIS, Mr. P. General Degoutte, commander in chief of French forces along the Rhine, received orders from Marshal Foch at 6 o'clock last night to advance upon cities the allies have announced they will take over, as a result of Germany's refusal to accept the terms of the armistice of September 11. A strip of land from 8 to 10 miles deep on the eastern side of the Rhine will be occupied by the French forces, says a telegram to the Journal from Mayence.

General Degoutte, who will be in command of the operation, left Mayence last night to establish headquarters at Neuen, a town four miles west of Dusseldorf and on the west bank of the Rhine. The first French contingent to advance will be the seventy-seventh division, which has been quartered at Bonn and is under the command of General Gocher.

Dispatches from Mayence declare that city was outwardly calm, crowds of townspeople contenting themselves by commenting upon newspaper dispatches relating details of the advance in a hortatory tone. No special measures were taken by the occupying troops and no resistance to their advance had been apprehended, but belief is expressed here that all military precautions have been taken.

Press Support Invasion
"France did not seek a break, but the break occurred," wrote Jacques Bainville, an authority on foreign politics, in the Excelsior. "It may be said, however, we do not regret it, for, after all, it will bring a solution to the problem."

These words fairly represented the calm mood in which French newspapers received the news from London. Journals affiliated with supporters of former President Poincare openly exulted.

"It is most fortunate," said the Figaro, "that the Germans decided to break off the negotiations. First, because they are before the whole world their unwillingness to expiate their crimes, and second, because the allies seemed ready to make further deplorable concessions."

Premier Briand's newspaper, the Excelsior, said: "Action must be no less energetic than the decisions the allies have taken. The allies would have hesitated if they had hesitated to follow up their threat with a blow."

Checkmated German Schemes
"It was a brilliant diplomatic success," declared Le Rappel, "to have thus checkmated German schemes tending to break up the entente." Sentiment in the lower classes in France was echoed in L'Oeuvre, which declared:

"Then, is war going to begin again? Let's hope not. It is merely debt collection, and not our fault, if the Germans oblige us to send our best army corps as collectors."

The Communist L'Humanite asked: "Are the Pan-Germans and the French Chauvinists again going to plunge the world into turmoil?"

Comparisons are odious with those who use St. Nicholas Flour. St. Nicholas Flour users always insist there is only one best flour. 44ues-4fr

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Whereas: The Father has called home a loved member of Scioto Valley Grange No. 1723, when on January 13, 1921, our sister, Mrs. Geo. W. Zaler answered the final call.

Although, our hearts are sad and a vacancy has come to our Grange and community that can never be filled by another, still a peaceful whisper seems to say "well done," for sister Zaler has done just by living a pure everyday Christian life and making all the lives she came in contact with brighter.

Be It Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family our heart felt sympathy in this their hour of trouble.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the home of Brother Zaler and family and a copy be sent to the State Grange. Monthly and Portsmouth Daily Times for publication and that a copy become a part of our minutes and that our charter be draped for thirty days.

A flower that has bloomed for the Master.
Has been plucked by his kind loving hand.
And now by her presence in Heaven beautifies and adorns that bright land.

Though a dear one is gone from our order
And our sorrow too great to express,
We know that she dwells with her father
In a place of continuous rest.

RESULTS REMARKABLE
SAYS NEW YORK MAN

Prominent Rochester Citizen, Tried Ten Years To Get Relief, But Tanlac Is Only Thing That Helped Him.

One of the latest to testify regarding the powers of Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results, is James J. Beasley, 102 Blundell Avenue, Rochester, New York. "Mr. Beasley has been chief regional keeper for the Department of Water Works, city of Rochester, for thirty years and is a well known and highly respected citizen. In referring to the remarkable recovery of his health by the use of Tanlac, Mr. Beasley said: "I have been trying for ten years to find relief from a case of dyspepsia. Nothing ever helped me to amount to anything until I got Tanlac. This is saying a great deal, for I did everything it seems that a man could do to find relief. Of course, I was hardly sick enough to go to bed and was most always able to keep going, but I never felt right. At times during those ten years, my stomach would become sour like sugar. I would have an uncomfortable lump up feeling after eating, but would, just for hours, suffer a great deal from nausea. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate and I would become alarmed over my condition. My nerves were on edge all the time, and I became irritable, nervous and restless. I had no strength or energy to do anything. I felt I wasn't like myself at all. Even a week or two ago it was an effort for me to get out of my chair and I felt as stiff and clumsy as an old work horse."

JAMES J. BEASLEY
Of Rochester, New York

"It is really remarkable what Tanlac has accomplished in my case. It has relieved me entirely of indigestion, I never have that distressing feeling any more after eating, and I feel perfectly fine in every way. I will always feel grateful for what this wonderful medicine has done for me and I am only too glad to give it my heartiest endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy and at leading druggists in every town. —Adv.

LODGES

Enjoy "Stunt" Night

The goodly numbers of James Dick Post, American Legion members, met last night thoroughly enjoyed "stunt" night program. The members were given rounds of applause the Legion members showing their appreciation of the efforts of the men. Virgil Jones, local magician entertained the young men for a half hour with his tricks and stunts. He was followed by Corbett and Small in a skeleton dance skit that proved a big hit. Prof. David Lawrence, who was an entertainer for the marines and sailors during the war performed for the Legion last night. His rock breaking act was the hit of his performance. Prof. Lawrence, with his head on one chair and his feet on another allowed Legion members with a sledge hammer to break a big rock on his chest. The Legion will give one meeting night each month to a program of entertainment.

Dance and Social Tonight

The Portsmouth Lodge of E. P. O. Elks No. 141 at its regular meeting Wednesday night will hold its annual election of officers. The ticket is as follows: Exalted Ruler, F. C. Fuller; Improved Leading Knight, William Heland; Exalted Royal Knight, Edward J. Krieger; Exalted Lecturing Knight, C. A. Burnett; Treasurer, Geo. E. Krieger; Secretary, Otto R. Maier; Tiler, Thos. To Confer Esquire Rank

A class of several candidates will be given the second degree or Esquire rank at the weekly meeting of Peerless Lodge, Knights of Pythias tonight.

Initiate One Candidate

Scout Lodge No. 31 L. O. E. F. conferred the first degree on one candidate, Leonard F. Miller Monday night at a well attended meeting. Charles A. Stahl was admitted to membership by transfer. The application of two William C. Eisman and C. J. Chandler were received and favorably acted upon. The membership voted to purchase new paraphernalia for the degree team. Several visitors present made talks on the good of the order.

Macabees Win Banner

For leading all other Tents in the Macabee's Drive for members which took place October 1920, the Portsmouth Tent, Knights of Macabees have been awarded the International Banner which will be presented to the organization March 21 by Great Commander

Edward J. Young of Norfolk, Mass. are being made for one grand meeting on this night. There will be a class of candidates for initiation, a program of talks and addresses and a banquet to close the meeting. The membership drives of last year resulted in 265 members being added to the membership list of the order. The honor of winning the International Banner has aroused much enthusiasm in the local Tent and the members are working hard on the "On To Washington" membership contest which opened four weeks ago. Five applications were received last night and one candidate Raymond Bowers was initiated.

The meeting held last night by Magnolia Lodge K. of P. was attended by an unusually large crowd. Much enthusiasm is being displayed by the members of this organization who are building up the membership by leaps and bounds. Much credit is due the various officers whose untiring efforts have placed the lodge on the high plane that it stands. They strive to reach the goal of 100 new members by July 1, 1921 and from present indications their object will be attained.

Three candidates Carl Gilen, Frank Fields and Ray C. Kenyon were initiated into the mysteries of the Free Rank last night, and several applications were acted upon while three applications were received.

Plans were laid for a social to be held later. It is the intention of the lodge to hold social sessions once a month.

After lodge the members were invited by the Degree Team to the banquet room where a lunch and smoker had been arranged by the mysterious committee of the team, the officers being O. E. Turch, President; H. W. Elliott, Secretary and Treasurer; and C. A. Honaker, captain. The duties of the mysterious committee are to provide various kinds of entertainment for the members of the team but the nature of the entertainment is unknown until after regular lodge session. This feature provides many pleasant surprises to all concerned and did the same last night. The "entertainment" consisted of fried oysters, celery, pickles, potato salad, lettuce and coffee and finished off with cigars. During the evening the Chairman, O. E. Turch called upon several members of the lodge for short talks. These responses being Ralph Johnston who took for his subject, "Service." Mr. Johnston delivered quite an oration on the subject selected which was very appropriate for the occasion. Others who talked were John Kah, F. E. Yeager, Oscar Rosebrook, C. A. Honaker, H. W. Elliott and O. E. Turch. The evening was quite an enjoyable one and before adjourning plans were made for a delegation to attend the Knight Rank at Ironton, which will be put on by Myrtle Lodge of that city. Eleven members volunteered to

Praying Made Easy

Mechanical devices for repeating prayers are familiar in the East, but they are outdone in saving of labor by the "prayer tags" of Tibbet. These as described by J. C. White, in the National Geographic Magazine, are suspended on long lines, sometimes reaching across a river. As long as they are moving in the breeze they are supposed to be recording prayers for the benefit of those who put them up.

Collicott's statement followed action of the board of education which voted favorably on the board of health's request to exclude unvaccinated pupils. Employers were asked today by health authorities to urge their employees to be vaccinated.

One Thing About Luck.
"Sometimes a man is lucky," said Uncle Eben, "same as a fisherman that catches an eel. His luck makes him so much trouble he 'most wishes he didn't have it."

YOU HAVE ONLY ONE MOTHER—

Today She May Be Weak and Nervous

Overwork, worry and the duties of Motherhood may have sapped the iron from her blood and robbed her of her bodily and mental vigor—HOW TO HELP HER.

IT WAS YOUR MOTHER WHO MADE THE FIRST SACRIFICE THAT YOU MIGHT LIVE.

WHEN ALL OTHER FRIENDS TURN AWAY FROM YOU, YOUR MOTHER YET REMAINS. If you are ill, it is her tender hand that strokes your feverish forehead, over which she has shed her tears and her prayers, and all others forsake you, THERE WILL STILL BE YOUR MOTHER with words of comfort and cheer, ready to offer any sacrifice that may help you.

TODAY MAY BE YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO HELP YOUR MOTHER

She may be suffering from iron starvation of the blood—THOUSANDS OF WOMEN SUFFER FROM DEVIATING WEAKNESS AND NERVOUSNESS caused by iron starvation without ever suspecting the real cause of their trouble.

They think that they are weak and nervous as a result of age, worry or overwork, or they think that their disturbed digestion, headache, heart palpitation, shortness of breath, pains across the back, etc., are due to some serious disease, which is often the case at all— their blood has simply thinned out and become pale, thin and watery and is starving for iron. This is proven by the fact that when many of these same women take organic iron for a while their alarming symptoms quickly disappear and they become strong, robust and healthy. You must have iron to enable your blood to change the food you eat into living cells and tissue. Without iron this change cannot be made and as a consequence, nothing you eat can give you the proper amount of good— you do not get the full strength out of it. Women especially need iron more than men as their indoor life and the strain they are under, renders them more anemic.

It is astonishing how very few women after thirty years of age, have sufficient iron in their blood, and it is almost equally surprising how many girls are afflicted in the same way. Lack of iron not only brings on a debilitating weakness but it makes a woman look old very quickly as it takes away the youthful freshness from her lips and cheeks and the sparkle and life from her eyes and even gives her face a haggard and "drawn" look.

IF YOU WANT TO RENDER YOUR MOTHER A REAL SERVICE, take her to a medical laboratory and have a "blood-count" made of her red blood corpuscles and see just how anemic she may be—or if you do not want to do this, insist that she eat more spinach and other iron containing vegetables and take organic iron with them for a month and see what a difference it makes.

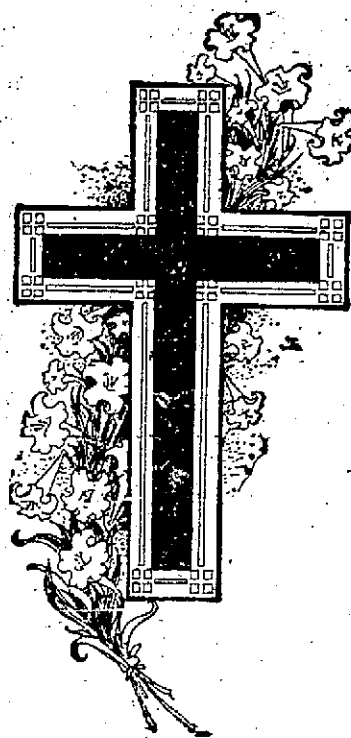

Thousands of women have surprisingly increased their strength, energy and endurance in two weeks by the use of a single element. But in making this test be sure that the iron you take is organic iron and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take.

MOTHER!

MOTHER IS THE GRANDEST NAME IN THE WORLD! Think of the suffering your mother has endured for you every day in the family circle, but motherhood when your mother passes from life you will never have another. Help her in every way while you can.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD—GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

Your Spiritual Income Blank

By next Tuesday a large majority of the men of America will have told Uncle Sam just how much money they made last year and the amount they spent on soda water and whether or not they gave 15 percent to religious and charitable organizations.

Suppose you were asked to fill a "spiritual income tax" return. Would that be more difficult than the one with which you may be yet struggling? Have you invested enough of time and energy in religious things to get therefrom any interest? What have been your returns from stock invested in colleges, hospitals and churches?

Think over the year since last March — have you spent as much time as you now feel is fair in supporting those forces in Portsmouth which make for the upbuilding of the community?

Time spent in church attendance is well invested. Thus can we best build up our moral reserves. Know what your denomination is accomplishing around the world. The stories of mission heroes of today are more thrilling than any account of Stanley's hunt for the missionary Livingstone. Be an informed Christian, and your dividend on Christian investments will grow daily.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup
Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Dr. 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good. Keeps perfectly, and lasts a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—soothing and healing the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, whooping cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets; there's no sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

To Clean Water Bottles.
Put one handful of tea leaves, one tablespoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of vinegar into the water bottle, and then fill one-half full of water; rinse this well round and round for several times, then pour away, and wash thoroughly in cold water. Turn the bottle upside down to drain, and wipe the outside with a dry cloth.

Do your children get sufficient energy food —so necessary for growing youngsters?

FOOD EXPERTS have been finding out many new things about how we are nourished. One of the most important is about Dextrose, the great energy food—the sugar that is absorbed right into the blood to build up your strength and energy.

You could not live long without Dextrose. Most of the food you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables, and all forms of sugar—has to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use it as energy food.

This interests millions of women who have Karo on their table almost every meal—in some form. Karo contains a very large percentage of Dextrose.

Karo—A Predigested Food

So Karo may almost be said to be a predigested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical authorities. This undoubtedly explains the wonderful popularity of Karo as a national syrup—used by everybody. Send for the free booklet mentioned below and read all the facts.

Every mother wants her boys and girls to be rugged and sturdy. Give the youngsters plenty of Karo—on cakes and spread on bread.

Karo is a great energy food—pure, wholesome, and economical. It can be used so many ways—for cooking, baking, candy making. Or as a spread on bread, pancakes or biscuits. Many use it instead of preserves; or to stew prunes and dried fruit with it.

FREE A booklet every parent should read. Tells all about the wonderful food value of Karo; explains the meaning of Dextrose and why children thrive on it. Sent free with the beautifully illustrated Karo Product Cook Book of 64 pages. Write Karo Products Refining Co., Argos, Ill.

Legislation For Extra Session Of Congress Discussed With President By Congress Leaders

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Congressional leaders began today to shape legislative plans for the extra session to accord with the views expressed at last night's conference with President Harding.

Meeting with the president at dinner a score of Republican members of the senate and house, many of them committee chairmen, discussed for four hours legislation to be taken up at the extra session, which it was agreed should be called not earlier than April 4, and probably a week later. Many subjects having to do with domestic legislation, especially tariff and taxation revision, entered into the discussions, but international matters were not touched on.

The conference, unique in itself and described by President Harding but "the beginning of the program of co-operation between the president and congress" did not break up until midnight. Then an unusual picture was presented the fifty newspaper men who had awaited the conclusion of the conference. The president, wearing evening clothes, walked from the executive mansion on to the north portico. Standing bare headed, and arms crossed, the lights from the portico roof affording the only illumination and presenting him in silhouette to late passersby on Pennsylvania avenue less than a hundred yards distant, the president described his dimly as "an early step in the fulfillment of what I believe the best policy of conducting the government, bringing the fellows together and getting them acquainted with each other's views."

He discussed the conference and its results informally, answering questions put to him by the newspaper correspondents and when the last question had been answered made them good night.

The conference was unable to determine, the president said, whether

The New Store of Kline's, "Portsmouth's Smartest Shop For Women" Will Open Soon And Prove A Revelation To The Trade.

The finest merchandise that New York markets afford will be offered for sale the first time in Portsmouth at a price which no one will hesitate to pay and no one has ever dreamed of being possible to accomplish.

Besides it will render a service equal to any of the finest shops in the country, and the community will indeed have a right to be proud of such an establishment.

Only such methods adopted by all large concerns throughout the mercantile world can make such an establishment as "Kline's" possible, mainly by carrying only such merchandise as the people demand, at a price they can afford to pay, thereby steadily increasing the volume of sales which turn small profits into large dividends without the public being overcharged.

"Quick Turn Overs" is what counts and such is the policy of every successful concern that turned the seeming to be impossible into a huge success and was bound to win out at the end.

Such is the message sent forth by Mr. Kline who is now in New York searching the markets thoroughly to secure only the best and newest styles for his large patronage who trust in his ability of making his venture a success, and nothing he claims is left undone to rush his merchandise by all ways of transportation in order to have his store open for the Easter trade.

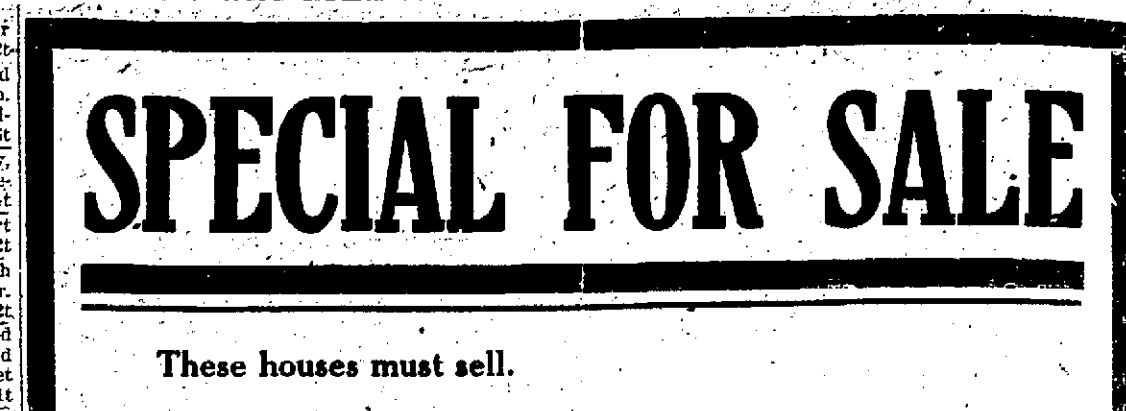

His new store is now complete and is receiving huge stocks of brand new seasonable stocks which in his opinion were never shown in Portsmouth or any other town at such reasonable figures and wishes to appeal to every one of his large host of friends to be patient and delay their Easter buying until the new store of "Kline's" opens which will be in plenty of time for Easter shopping, thereby making sure to secure nothing but the newest in style and materials at such low figures that were not dreamed possible by any one to obtain.

He disposed of his former store, stock and all, in order to start in his new venture with a clean slate, and stock his spacious and commodious quarters with brand new merchandise from top to bottom (on all three floors) in a brand new building, especially built and constructed for this purpose, with brand new fixtures and equipment, with such lovely environment that everybody will be amazed when its doors swing open on "Opening Day" and above all grasp the beautiful creations at a price within reach of all, only made possible by delaying buying and taking advantage of every decline in a constantly falling market. Being open for such tremendous big stocks such as the requirements of "Kline's" are bound to be, dealing only in Women's ready-to-wear, confined only to such lines with such close relations of New York's most prominent manufacturers, who were willing to see his new venture a success have accorded their splendid co-operation in offering every possible concession to make values unbeatable, especially for opening week.

He promises his opening to be the greatest event ever undertaken in this section of the state in a mercantile way, and will no doubt make his promise good. He is due home within another week to complete final arrangements. In the meantime everything is progressing nicely. He will announce the opening date upon his return home.

mouth, Ohio, on the 14th day of November, 1912, he and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 3 This Resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Adopted this 7th day of March, 1921.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—Dealings in the opening of today's stock market session were very light and irregular. Press pressure was directed against some of the rails and shippers but the general list was only slightly changed. In the early offerings and United Fruit lost 1 point. Baltimore and Ohio, Great Northern, Pittsburg and West Virginia, American International General Electric, U. S. Rubber and Sears-Roebuck comprised the other noteworthy issues. The market's tone improved within the first half hour, when shorts covered hurriedly in General Asphalt.

In the early extension of the rise Mexican Petroleum advanced 1 1/2 and General Asphalt 2, making moderate gains. More gains were made by Fluorine, Studebaker, Crucible and

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Mar. 8.—Wheat traders showed a disposition to mark time today pending the issuance of the government report this afternoon on farm reserves. Further rains benefiting crops had only a transient effect as a bearish factor. The absence of aggressive selling on initial declines led to a moderate advance which, however, was not well maintained. Opening prices which, varied from unchanged figures to 1c lower, with March 1.07 1/2 and May 1.05 1/2, to 1.50, were followed by rallies, to above yesterday's finish and then by something of a reaction nullifying most of the gain.

Corn, like wheat, hardened a little after easing off at the start. Traders took their cue from the action of wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/2c lower, market suggested a trifle more and then rose slightly above yesterday's close. The close was unsettled, at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/2c lower, with March 1.00 to 1.06 1/2 and May 1.50 to 1.59 1/2.
Oats were steady with other cereals starting a shade off to 1/4c advance, with May 45 1/2 to 46 1/2, and later keeping at about the same range.
Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.
Prices closed steady, 3/4c to 1/2c net lower with May 70 1/2 @ 70 1/2 to 70 3/4.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
in "The Mollycoddle"

A Real Fight in Which the Only Weapons Used Are Bare Knuckles, Adds to the Many Thrills Included in "The Mollycoddle, At the Lyric Today, and Tomorrow.

During his long career as a screen star, Douglas Fairbanks has had many "battles" of a more or less spectacular nature. In some cases he has had just the "villain" to handle and in others he has even gone so far as to "beat up" an entire gang. Without exception all previous fights indulged in by the athletic star have been released, but not so with the fight in "The Mollycoddle."

"It was the toughest fight I have ever had," smiled the star after the scene was filmed. "I'll say so, too," volunteered Wallace Beery, who was Doug's opponent and likewise the player who shoulders the thankless burden of "villain" in the picture.

The big feature of it all was the fact that no member of the company knew that there was such a scene to be taken until a few minutes before it was to be filmed.

The DEVIL
TO PAY

From the novel by Francis Nimmo Greene

A ROBERT BRUNTON
PRODUCTION

Those who "pay" will have The Devil to Pay, a Rare Drama Rich in Action and Suspense is at the Exhibit Theatre Tonight, Last Time, in "The Devil to Pay," A Tathe Super Feature With Roy Stewart and Robert McKinn—Don't Miss It.

You've heard it said, "He must have a hot spoon to play with the devil." Indeed, the fiery-eyed monster extracts his due. He cheats, misleads, lies, defrauds and doublecrosses. Yet, on the surface, he is smooth—sleek and humble.

Brent Warren, to quote Hamlet, "and now like the devil, to assume a pleasing shape."

But, even when in jalls—men condemned to die, break the silence of a prison walls and galleys, and the chime of the grave echoes, "Do men die?" Brent Warren was haunted, his soul was wrecked, his mind was troubled, because he played with fire and sought to place guilt on the head of another man.

Oh, the hell he endured and the price he paid! It was a case of devil pay devil, and the human devil-pay double.

A drama to stir your mind. Guarantee entertainment. How could it be otherwise, a Robert Brunton production, adapted from the novel by Francis Nimmo Greene? See it!

THING

By Mary Mears

Personally directed by Mr. Dwan

Every One who saw "The Forbidden Thing" at the Eastland Theatre Last Night Gives It the Best of Praise. Positively One Two Nights Left in Which to See It—Tonight and Tomorrow.

Program Tonight
A—Overture. Honolulu Eyes, Eastland Orchestra.
B—Allan Dwan presents "The Forbidden Thing."
C—Luke McLuke and his Filmstrip.

D—Vitagraph Presents Jimmie Aubrey in "The Back Yard."

For its attraction starting last night the Eastland theatre offers you Allan Dwan, Associated Producers production, "The Forbidden Thing."

Mystery—subtle, and yet poignant in its denouement.

That's "The Forbidden Thing." Cross currents of human passion over playing at cross purposes. The spiritual arrayed against the physical in the race for love. The will of a physical woman fighting for the soul of a man—and on the other hand the sweet, refining influence of another woman battling for the same possession.

Who will win?

"The Forbidden Thing" is a story that ripples with amusement at times and other times bubbles with human emotions. Also, in it tragedy stalks rampant—and then comes love and happiness and contentment. Somewhere, somehow, its characters are confronted with "the forbidden thing" and somewhere, somehow, the measure is met and defeated.

The little, sensuous, dark-eyed Portuguese maid weaves her spell about the stalwart descendant of the Pilgrim fathers—and causes wreck and ruin to follow in her wake. Romance flees before her and tragedy stalks behind her. She, the physical attraction, reigns for a day—reigns through an awful day—and then comes the light.

It is the light of a better day—the light of other eyes—the light of former years returned. Into this light also shines the joy and happiness of spiritual awakening—and out of the depths the giant man rises again.

James Kirkwood plays the part of Alonzo Blake, descendant of the Pilgrim fathers. His characterization is the best thing he has ever done. He portrays the character of the young New Englander with a sympathy, sincerity and a finer touch that is remarkable. In all his moods he is the same lovable character we meet at the beginning of the play.

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Permin (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, cost little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. Ad.

Costa Rica To Comply With U. S. Demands

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Costa Rica having announced its intention to comply with the recommendations of the United States government looking toward settlement of the Panama-Costa Rican conflict, state department officials today awaited the reply from Panama to the identical notes dispatched to that republic and Costa Rica.

The Costa Rican government replying last night through its minister here to the American note said that orders had been issued for immediate withdrawal of its forces from the disputed territory beyond the Sixola river and that instructions had been sent to its troops on the Pacific side of the Panama-Costa Rican boundary to advance no farther.

The Costa Rican government also announced its readiness to accept the demarcation of the boundary between its territory and that of Panama as fixed by Chief Justice White, of the United States.

The text of the note dispatched to Costa Rica by Secretary Hughes, which with the Costa Rican reply was made public last night by the state department, showed that the United States earnestly urged Costa Rica at first to cease hostilities; second to withdraw its troops from beyond the Sixola river line, and instruct those beyond the status quo line on the remainder of the front to advance no farther, and third, to make an appropriate settlement in accordance with the decision of Chief Justice White.

THE INTEREST OF ALL

THEYRE is not lacking criticism that the chamber of commerce is doing nothing for the city.

We are neither to deny, nor admit the correctness of that statement here. It is used to lay down the indubitable precept: What ever the chamber accomplishes or fails to accomplish rests solely with the membership, not a part of the membership but of all of it. If the chamber has done one thing more diligently than another it has been to try to get at what the city needs and what the membership wants done for it. This it seeks to bring out through opportunity offered specifically to every member to make suggestions and forum meetings, where each one is given free and full chance to express his views.

Next Thursday the chamber is going to hold a forum meeting in which a matter will be up for discussion, and, in a manner, determined, that concerns every person in it directly, a question that goes to the welfare, comfort and health of all, one absolutely as much as another.

This is the new building code, not a code in which property owners, realty agents and contractors are concerned, but, which vitally affects every man, woman and child in the city.

This code lays down the lines on which the future Portsmouth is to be developed, how homes are to be built and improvements carried on.

It may be the wisest legislation of the sort ever propounded; on the other hand it may be a serious bar against development and a complete obstacle to generous growth.

Some say it is one thing, some say it is another. The fact is that exceedingly vital amendments to it are being pushed, one now before council for action.

As is quite natural and proper council will receive with well come consideration any opinion offered by the forum. If every member were at that meeting and gave it voice one way or the other, there wouldn't be much doubt as to the course of council.

Will you be there, to talk if you wish to, to vote if you do not?

WHAT EVERY MAN SHOULD HAVE

THE Republican organs, that were ruthless and unrelenting in their fault finding with Wilson, are now piteously and even somewhat pathetically, pleading with Democrats to give Harding a fair show.

It is to the entire credit of the Democratic press that it has always conducted itself more fairly and decently than its partisan contemporary, which though never descended to such extremes as during the past eight years.

President Harding will be given a fair show, leastwise he will not be made the object of such bitter and unreasoning opposition as was President Wilson. Besides the reason already given, there are other causes through which he will not be so wickedly hampered at every turn. A first lies in the primal difference of the mental organism of the two men. Wilson concentrates on the end sought, Harding more on the means. The tendency of the first is to convict, to attain, the latter to please. Wilson does not lack geniality, but there is a rare fellowship in Harding.

Then Wilson is unskilled in politics, and prone to disregard the party in any manner; Harding is a consummate politician and he believes in a partisan government. Undoubtedly much of the hostility that Wilson encountered arose in his utter disregard of his party organization; Harding will never be unmindful of party politics. Of course, he is going to have his patronage troubles, but he will never have his party organization saying things behind his back, as Wilson had.

A final factor to be taken into consideration on the hearing before the country is the organized publicity of more than one sort that he will have to present him. Practically all the metropolitan papers are Republican, the news agencies, centered in and about Washington, are almost solely controlled by Republican interests. These will all see that the best foot is put forward for Harding.

The cartoon that advises trying a new sort of tobacco, "Normaleys" isn't as felicitous in suggestion as it was hoped to go. A thing going up in smoke has no pleasant prospect.

Even the papers that were most inveterately hostile to Wilson narrate with keen relish the withering dignity, with which he dismissed Lodge, his most vicious enemy, when the latter came at the head of a committee to inform him that the senate was ready to adjourn and awaited his pleasure.

A good habit can sometimes be run into a bad one. It has done much else but rain since early last fall.

Some of the constituents of the assemblyman who introduced a bill to abandon the canal, which has already been abandoned, have persuaded him to withdraw it. There is a pretty problem presented in that canal. It has long fallen into disuse and has become a sort of general nuisance, but what shall be done with it? If it be abandoned formally, the day may come when it will be one of the state's greatest needs, and if it isn't it will continue to be a bugaboo.

Before his induction into office Secretary of the Navy Denby, in a public speech, said the debts of the Allies to America should be cancelled. He has, probably, seen a great light by this time.

Germany says she can not accept the Allies indemnity order. Yes, she can, or she will, which is about the same thing.

IS MONEY DANGEROUS

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Is it a help or a handicap, in the pursuit of success and happiness to have wealth which you have inherited or otherwise obtained without any effort of your own?

Most of us would be glad to have the handclaps and take the money, if any should come our way. And yet the precise effect which unearned money has on a man is a subject much discussed and much differed about. And there is certainly a widespread belief that much money is dangerous to a young man, that his success and happiness are most probable if he has to make his own way. A surprisingly large number of people act upon this belief. For instance, within the last few weeks two such instances have come to the attention of the public. In one of these a young man, Charles Garland, refused to accept a bequest of a quarter of a million dollars. He gave no reason for his refusal, but simply informed the trustees of the estate that he was not interested in the money and would not take it. In the other case, the will of a multi-millionaire, Marshall Field, was found to provide that his grandson should not have the full use of his estate until he had reached the age of 30 years. The Field will specifically states that this action is taken to prevent the heirs from "leading useless lives of luxury and idleness."

Whether Garland's motive may have been in refusing a fortune, Field's motive in trying his up is thus plainly announced. He believed that inherited wealth will make a man useless. And the diligent newspaper reader might collect many other instances of rich men who have sought to protect their heirs from the dangers of wealth, and a few others of men and women who have themselves run away from wealth. Of course, the general principle is in the opposite direction, but these instances are significant.

The Ancient Question

Furthermore, the whole question is significant because it brings up that ancient problem as to whether environment or heredity is the determining factor in a man's destiny. In other words, is it true, as we have generally been taught in this country, that if you just get a good education and work hard and mind your P's and Q's you can do almost anything? Or, on the contrary, is it true that your destiny depends largely on the kind of brain you were born with, and that you will get the education and all the rest of the things you need in spite of almost any handicap of more circumstances.

This question has been debated by the millions of words, and yet it has never been anywhere near settled. The reason seems to be that, while there has been much talk, there has been little investigation. Our psychologists are just beginning to investigate such practical and vital questions as this. We may expect some real light on the question in the next few years.

Alfred Russel Wallace, the friend and follower of Darwin, was one who truly believed that wealth was a curse to a young man, and that inheritance of wealth was a double curse. Frank Harris is another man of undoubted intelligence who is fond of making the same assertion. But in both cases, it is merely assertion backed up by a little theorizing. Let some investigator gather all possible instances of young men who have inherited money, let him find out just what each one accomplished, and trace as far as possible, what effect the money had on their careers. Such a man would be worth listening to, because he would have some evidence as well as argument to offer.

Meantime it is pretty clear that we believe what we want to believe. It is comforting to think that we may achieve much if we only get a good education and work hard—that these factors are more important than heredity. It is also comforting for those of us who have no money to believe that we have thereby escaped a curse, and are happier and more successful than we would have been if we had inherited millions.

A Study of Royalty

The nearest thing to a scientific study of the question which we can find is a book by Frederic Adams Woods, on "Heredity and Royalty." Mr. Woods studied the histories of all the royal families in Europe with a view to discovering whether in these families—chosen because so much information about them can be found—ability has been hereditary or not. He also sets out to discover whether these families have tended to degenerate by reason of their luxurious lives, as they are popularly believed to do. Here, then, is a real statistical study of the effect of inherited wealth on a great number of men and women—over 3,000 are studied individually.

Woods, who is a biologist first, and historian only second, reaches the emphatic conclusion that in royal families, wealth and luxury have not tended to produce degeneration. He proves, to his own satisfaction, that when such families have shown a decline in ability or power, it is always due to hereditary influences. Usually inbreeding is not the cause. The cause usually is an unwise marriage. Some prince marries an obscure woman who is stupid, commonplace, or unhealthy. The next generation shows the effect of the bad cross. Two or three such marriages, and the blood of the royal family, nearly always of excellent quality to start with, is diluted with weaknesses which ultimately lead to its downfall.

Woods shows that some royal families, like that of Portugal, for example, have produced men of high capacity for as much as 12 generations without a break. Then, due to the introduction of inferior blood, this same line, in a few generations has literally gone to pieces.

These conclusions of Woods seem to agree with those of the modern scientists in general. Modern science believes that a man's destiny is largely determined by his natural endowment. This endowment is largely inherited from his immediate forbears. That is, the chances are that you will be of about the same capacity as your mother and father. More rarely, you may resemble a grandparent. Still more rarely, you may throw back to some ancient forbear, long forgotten. Most rarely of all you may be that freak of nature, a genius. A man of remarkable ability is occasionally born of commonplace parents. But such instances are much more rare than is generally believed.

Whether you have money or not, it is really of little importance, according to the scientific point of view. If you have ability and strength, you will get the education you need without money and very likely without schools. Furthermore, the strong man is seldom ruined by money. It does not lead him into idleness because he is possessed of energies and curiosities which make idleness unendurable to him. On the other hand, the strong character carries little for luxury and is no more dazzled by the lack of wealth than he is defeated by the possession of it. It is the weakling who lets his money run away with him if he has any, and it is the weakling who is eaten up with envy of the rich if he lacks it, and spends his time scheming for a million dollars and dreaming of get-rich-quick schemes.

It's the man, not the money, that counts.

Q. Does Congress have to approve the appointment of Ambassadors? D. M. J.

A. The President has the power to select ambassadors to foreign countries, but the appointments have to be ratified by the United States Senate.

Q. Please give me some information about the damaging winds that blow over Texas every spring. H. H. E.

A. The winds to which you refer are the strong cold winds which occasionally blow southward along the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains. They are called "northerners" and are frequently preceded by southerly winds, moderate in temperature, of even uncomfortably warm, and the change to the cold northerly current may sometimes be so abrupt as to give the sensation of passing suddenly from summer into winter. These winds are not confined to the spring season, nor to Western Texas, though they are perhaps best known in Texas and most pronounced during March. They may be accompanied by rain, sleet, or snow, or by dust.

Q. Which was the first country that was a Republic? D. F. C.

A. Many of the ancient towns had a republican form of government, notably Tyre and Sidon, Carthage, Athens, and Rome. Most authorities seem to agree, however, that the earliest republic in the accepted sense of the term was that at Athens.

New-York-Day-By-Day

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—The doom of the Herald Building has been announced. One by one the works of Stanford White have been destroyed. The airy lightness, the elegance of its facade and its studied silhouette have caused many returning travelers to lift their hats in reverence. Remember me to Herald Square, the popular deity, and indeed it has for years been a symbol of the Manhattaness.

There was romance about the Herald building. It lurked in the grinding presses, the green eyed owls that looked down on the Gulch of Folly and the mechanical ironmen who with mighty strokes with brass hammers sounded the time on a huge bell.

It was so appealing that James Gordon Bennett in his office in Paris would now and then close his desk with a snap and be off on the next ocean liner for New York. The Herald Building will be scrapped and in its place will rise a mighty skyscraper to house hundreds of offices.

The Herald Building has had many famous visitors. Plans for the biggest news stories in history were made in the counsel room. Scarcely all of the prominent editors in town at one time or another were attached to the Herald staff.

When Bennett fired them, it was preventing that they get better posts. There were times when an entire news editorial staff would show up Sunday morning for work. He was forever experimenting and a list of Herald "Don'ts" for the editorial staff would fill a large sized volume. One order that was never disobeyed was the one demanding a story about a dog on the first page every Monday morning.

Herald Square was home combined with traditions. At night it filled with old characters. "Old Hodge and Wagon," the only Chinese vagrant ever listed at headquarters, held forth there until midnight. "Gold-Town" who won his sobriquet by having all his teeth crowned with gold made a fortune in his Herald Square. "Lunch Wagon," serving even hot lunch and coffee.

In the old days it was the parade ground for the army of fallen women who came out at night to beguile in their silks and satins and puffed perumes. Confidence men, colds, race track touts and stool pigeons loafed in the 21st-mills that abounded in the neighborhood. Herald Square was picturesque. It represented days that were hallowed long are now dead and gone.

Wagons and Komper dropped out of the theatrical world for eight years. A year ago they staged a come back and have reported gross receipts from three companies of $1,000,000. And yet it has been the poorest theatrical season in ten years.

Candles stuck in bottle are no longer permitted to furnish light for serious thinkers in the Greenwich Village lounge. The Greenwich Village lounge is now a place of quietude, stillness in itself and no other lounge is complete without it. The other day firemen swooped down on the Village and snuffed out the candles, declaring them to be a menace. Candles are old fashioned and money and take one back to the days when it was possible to get a hot meal for 40 cents. Thus the visitor to the city was off his guard and ordered recklessly. He

Q. When was starch first made? R. E. M.

A. The first making of starch is not of record, but it is spoken of by Pliny in the first century A. D. as being made from wheat on the island of Chios. It is seldom mentioned by later writers until the time of Queen Elizabeth, 16th century, when its use became a necessity for stiffening the ruffs worn by the Queen and her court.

Q. How did "tanks" happen to be called that? A. H. C.

A. Tanks got their name from the fact that when they were first being constructed, great secrecy was desired, and they were always referred to officially at "the new drinking water containers for Mesopotamia."

Q. What is meant by the Gothic architectural? S. K.

A. The name is applied to the styles that were developed by the ecclesiastical builders of the Middle Ages between 1150 and 1500 A. D. The name is a misnomer for the Gothic as a nation had disappeared long before the beginnings of this architecture. The obvious common characteristics of this style are the pointed arch, the tracery window, the flying buttress, spires and pinnacles, and internally the ribbed groined vault.

Q. How many grain seeds are required to plant an acre? M. O.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that from 22 to 24 pounds of Spanish peanuts in the shell will plant an acre, the amount depending upon planting distances. With shelled seed, it will require from 23 to 24 pounds of seed.

Q. I am often puzzled as to which word to use—father or further. Will you please illustrate? W. A. D.

A. Further implies distance and further implies addition. For illustration: "I cannot go farther with you." "He wishes to further his own interests."

Q. Do male parrots learn more readily than female? L. M. C.

A. The Bureau of Biological Survey says that male parrots as a rule respond better to teaching than females.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

ALBERT FALL

Albert Bacon Fall, the secretary of interior in Harding's cabinet, is unusually well fitted for the position as he has lived in the west for a number of years and is doubly well acquainted with western and and internal problems by his experience in the senate. Fall was born in Frankfort, Ky., November 26, 1861. He was educated principally in the country schools and by his mother. He studied law and taught school when he was eighteen. His career after that was a varied one, including farm work, cattle ranching and mining. Fall is at present engaged in stock raising, farming and mining. He has served as a member of the New Mexico legislature, associate justice of state supreme court, and city attorney general.

He has been a member of the senate since 1912. He was re-elected in 1919. His present term will expire in 1925. His home is in Three Rivers, New Mexico.

It is better to lose with a conscience than to win by a trick unfair.

It is better to fail and know you've been beaten.

Whoever the prize was, SQUARE. Than to claim the joy of a far off goal. And the cheers of the standards. And to know down deep in your honest soul.

A cheat you must live and die.

Who wins by trick, may take the prize. And at first he may think it sweet. But many a day, in the future lies. When he'll wish he had not defied. For the man who lost shall be glad at heart.

And walk with his head up high. While the conqueror knows he must play the part Of a cheat and a living lie.

The prize seems fair when the fight is on.

But save it is truly won. You will hate the thing. When the crowds are gone. For it stands for a false deed done. And its better you never should reach your goal.

Then over success to lay. At the price of knowing down in your soul. That your glory is all a lie.

Designs Were Certainly There.

"Why do you persist in hanging around the town all the time? Have you designs on somebody in my show?"

said the side-show manager. "Yes," replied the young artist. "I have designs on your tattooed lady, and she hasn't paid for them yet."

One Bride's Case

"I don't think," said the bride, "that I'll make a cake by the recipe that woman across the hall gave me. It will be too expensive. The eggs alone will cost a dollar five."

"The wife," exclaimed her husband, "that is a good deal. How many does it call for anyway?"

"Eighteen," the rolls of eight and the whites of 18."

Boys Deset By Temptation

When a boy of seventeen steals three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of securities it is time to think about a number of things. A generation ago only men of established character and good habits, men of family, experience and tested honesty, were employed in places of great trust. Turning a boy of seventeen loose among negotiable securities worth millions would have been frowned on both as culpable imprudence and as placing unjustifiable temptation before immature and irresponsible minds.

A boy cannot think as a man. His impulses usually rule him. He has not the vision to see the consequences of dishonesty. He is constantly beset by desire for money for frivolous things. The lessons of thrift, the slow growth of means, the necessity of integrity, have not yet taken hold upon his sense and conscience. The way to wealth looks long and hard to him, as indeed it is, and he has not yet learned the joys of saving, because youth is all for spending.

Forty years ago only old and reliable men were entrusted with even a few hundred dollars to take to bank. What has caused the change that opens the doors of opportunity to boys in banks? It is insurance against losses by theft—the bonding companies? Certainly the small difference in wages between those required by men of established character and irresponsible boys cannot account for the great change in requirements for employees in places where fortunes are in hourly reach of pilfering fingers. Boys should not be trusted too much. They should be taught that trust is a thing of slow growth, as they were a generation ago.
